A special Destination!

Montreal is a family-oriented city with parks, museums, and the Cirque du Soleil! It is a walkable city, but there are plenty of bike paths, busses, and an extensive Metro system.

Because of its interesting history, it is an amalgam of cultures, incorporating aspects of French, English, and indigenous ideas into its own unique character. It is also home to waves of immigrants representing more than 80 cultures that continue to add

	a variety of ethnic flavors to the city! The food, public art, the many festivals -- including FrancoFolies before the Convention and the International Festival of Jazz afterward will make you want to come early and stay late to experience the joie de vivre of this wonderful city. To find out more about Montréal: http://www.tourisme-montreal.org/ For the 2010 RI Convention, Air Canada and its the Star Alliance partners are offering travel discounts to Montréal for Rotarians and one companion traveling on the same itinerary. http://www.rotary.org/en/Members/Events/Convention/Pages/TravelandHousing.aspx You won't want to miss this special convention! Registration/housing inquiries: RI.registration@rotary.org Questions/Comments: impromo@rotary.org
June 2010	Hi. Please advise any of your members that are planning to go to Montreal of this exchange. Kind regards, Alan Boniface, District 9910 Friendship Exchange Committee

- We are sponsoring a student to Outward Bound with help from both the Chenery Trust and JR McKenzie Trust
- The Youth Raffle is still being worked on International:

Craiger

- We need to make another visit to Bonga Bonga to help with their tanks that were damaged in the earthquakes
- Kerry, after talking with various Civil Engineers, has modified his original idea of putting a concrete collar around the main tank to one of holding it together by placing galvanized bands around it. The idea of a liner and cover still stands.
- The Vanuatu Govt decided shortly after the earthquake that the school was unsafe due to ground slippage at one end and closed the building. Our views after looking at it was that the school itself appears to have been built on solid ground, it is a small amount of land outside the building that is slipping. Kerry has spoken to two Engineers at New Lynn Rotary who are willing to fly over and assess the situation.

David Hutcheson, the Rotary World Community Services Chairperson and member of the Rotary Club of North Harbour, is in Vanuatu at the moment checking out various Rotary projects. As his visit was to include Tongoa Craiger and Kerry convinced him that the friendly people of Bonga Bonga and Meriu would be delighted to show him the Aid Station.

NZ pockets help Samoan rebuild

Real money has enabled real help in Samoa by Rotary.

Stuart Batty, director of Rotary’s international community development activity in New Zealand, says the cash given by New Zealanders to Rotary’s appeal through Westpac Bank after the tsunami in September is helping fund the rebuilding of people’s lives and their communities.

Rotary has engaged local labour in Samoa to help rebuild the Poutasi Village School as well as install guttering around larger community buildings. Water tanks have also been supplied to communities along the Aleipata District coast.

“We have also set up a scholarship programme so that children of parents who have lost their livelihoods in the tsunami can also pay their school fees,” Mr Batty says. “And we are funding outreach health screening for children and adults who may need treatment for ongoing health issues from the tsunami.”

Schools have received shipments of desks, chairs, materials and other resources from New Zealand through Rotary. After the New Zealand High Commission in Apia alerted Rotary to the lack of preschool facilities in the worst affected area, Rotary also allocated some funds to help out.

“Rotary was one of the first on the ground in Samoa with Emergency Response Kits and, together with the Shelter Box organisation, quickly provided tsunami victims with the shelter and essential day-to-day requirements,” Mr Batty says. “We have replenished our stock of Emergency Response Kits now and naturally hope we do not need them during the Christmas holiday season.

“The new Emergency Response Kits and all this rebuilding work are possible because of the generosity of New Zealanders and Rotarians. They should know what they have helped us to achieve.”

Enhance your club's reputation in your community by showcasing Rotary in places locals gather. There is no better resource than your monthly Rotary Down Under magazine, and that is why every front cover has a place to add your club's contact details on the bottom right.

Many clubs make good use of this opportunity by collecting copies from members who have finished reading theirs, and putting them into nearby cafes and waiting rooms. In doing so, they capture the imagination of the public by showing them the high quality of innovative Rotary projects, and that Rotary has grass roots connections and talent which makes it so effective. Often an information sheet is inserted about the club to answer to the question "how can I help?"

A club member at a Rotary Leadership Institute course said that RLI had opened his eyes to the potential of his Rotary membership. As a result, he now regularly reads his RDU, and from that he developed a passionate involvement in water projects in the Pacific Islands. "Rotary now has real meaning for me". Learn more about Rotary in RDU magazine to find what sparks your interest ...

La couverture de l'édition de février du magazine RDU nous vient de Polynésie française; à l'intérieur du magazine se trouve l'article relatant ce projet et bien d'autres projets qui sont autant de source d'inspiration de nouvelles actions pour les rotariens, les clubs, les districts afin de promouvoir toujours mieux l'action du Rotary dans notre région.

What a start to 2010!!

Yet again our districts have scored front cover, which makes 7 out of the last 11 cover stories – an all time record! This reflects the strength of Rotary throughout our districts and the quality of our projects. To maintain this level of presence in RDU, we need your articles and photos please. How to get published is explained on www.rdu.rotary.org.nz. What has your club done?

The Awhitu Peninsula, from Waiuku to The Heads, is an area of outstanding scenic beauty. The Rotary Club of Waiuku, Inc. annual fun walk of approx. 5km or 10km this year has about 75% new walking track which will allow a large number of people to enjoy the views and tranquillity and, at the same time, help raise funds for Local Youth Projects.
